

Independent probabilities multiply along each branch

Independence is the reason the branch probabilities can be multiplied.